Exciting Event!

All things Senior... Baby Boomers & Beyond

This event offers an opportunity to inform and educate the older population and caregivers of products and services.

If your business offers information regarding elder care, retirement planning and living, nutrition, wellness, exercise, healthy living, senior housing, home care, downsizing, caregivers and more... reach this targeted market on a personal level and in an enjoyable atmosphere by participating in this event.

It is being organized with the mission of promoting over all well-being and quality of life to our 50 plus population.

Admission is FREE of charge to all attendees!
